TOWN OF HARTLAND

Hartland, the smallest town in New Brunswick, with a population of about 950, has a varied and interesting history. It was known as "Mouth of the 'Guimac" until it was officially changed to "Hartland" about 1870. Some say it was named in honor of Rev. Samuel Hart, an early Baptist minister; others say it is in honor of James Hartley, an early surveyor; while others say it was named because it was "the heart of the county."

Its early settlers were loyalist with William Orser and his six children being the first settlers. William's first wife died and he married Mary Blake Craig, who also had six children. To complete the story William and Mary had six more children. Mary Blake Craig Orser is called the "Mother of Hartland."

The river has always been important in Hartland's history. As early as 1813 Troops were moved from the Maritimes to Upper Canada on the river, especially when it was frozen.

Steamships plied the river waters in the mid-1800s, but only during high water.

In 1997 Hartland was the National winner of "Communities in Bloom" a contest for communities with a population under 1500. In 1998 Hartland won "The Canadian Living Award for the Best Community Spirit."

Scenic Walkway The scenic walkway runs from the Visitors Information Centre up to the Charles R. Allen Park.

VILLAGE OF HARVEY

Bring your canoe or boat, then relax and practice your fishing at Harvey Lake, known for its quality small-mouth bass or take part in the annual fishing derby. Harvey has several shops and cafes to enjoy home-cooked meals and home baked goods and in-season local produce. Visit the Briggs & Little Woolen Mill, Canada's oldest woolen mill, since 1857. The Village of Harvey is a warmhearted vibrant community located just 47 kilometers southwest of Fredericton, the capital of New Brunswick. First settled in 1838 by a group of 16 Scottish families, Harvey is steeped in history with many of the early buildings still in existence and some say the spirits of these earlier residents are still present as well. Harvey was once well known as a railroad town and a great farming area, having been dubbed the Jersey Capital of Canada. Farming has now been largely replaced by residential development and many light industries have found it a supremely satisfactory location as Harvey is only minutes away from the Maine Border at Vanceboro, making it viable to set up for import/export.

One of the earliest industries in the area was established in York Mills in 1857. This still exists as the Briggs and Little Woolen Mill and fine yarns are exported internationally to the U.S., Europe, England, Australia and other countries. Many of the existing general merchandising outlets had their roots in the late 1800's and are still in operation as general stores, food services and convenience outlets.

Moving ahead approximately 150 years, the families of this area are kept informed of the community activities by the "Lionews", one of the many services provided by the local chapter of Lions International. Youth are kept busy attending many numerous functions, including a Girl Guide Movement, 4-H Club, Army Cadets, school-sponsored sports, and youth church organizations. Some of the local residents indicate that they never get a chance to stay home, as there is something to do every night. Harvey is only minutes away from King's Landing Historical Settlement, Canada's #1 tourist attraction. Visitors to our communities are welcome to stop at the unique gift shops and stores and participate in the many year-round activities including the annual Harvey-

See a giant fiddle - erected as a tribute to the late Don Messer (1909 - 1973) born in the nearby community of Tweedside.

Community Days celebrations. In the winter, people can be found ice fishing, curling, cross country skiing, playing hockey or out on the approximately 60 miles of groomed snowmobile trails maintained in the area in the summer, residents and visitors utilize the many lakes in the area for boating, fishing, swimming and water-skiing. Should you wish, you can just park your "home on wheels" or rent a cottage, relax and enjoy the panoramic scenery and perhaps, catch one of the many local artisans at work, as tours of most of the manufacturing outlets are available at your request.

Harvey is a great place to visit and many visitors have decided that they would like to live here.

St. Stephen is situated on the International Boundary between New Brunswick, Canada and Maine, U.S.A.. The lower part of this boundary is the St. Croix River, a Canadian Heritage River, which has been steeped in history since the French explorers, Champlain and de Monts, first ventured on St. Croix Island (sometimes called Dochets Island) in 1604.

One hundred and eighty years later, in 1784, the United Empire Loyalists arrived following the American War of Independence. They joined the few original settlers in the area.

The area grew both economically and culturally, and by 1800, St. Stephen was perhaps the most important regional port for shipments of timber and lumber overseas. Both sides of the St. Croix River became studded with numerous shipyards and wharves, as a "Golden Era" began. The many docks were crowded with Tall Ships loaded with lumber bound for Europe.

The two communities share lives as "border towns" in a most neighbourly fashion. In fact, in 1812 the people of St. Stephen loaned Calais sufficient gunpowder to celebrate the 4th of July while both countries were technically at war.

St. Stephen was incorporated as a town in 1871, then five years later its business district was almost totally consumed by fire when eighty buildings and thirteen wharves were destroyed.

By the turn of the century, lumbering and shipbuilding had all but disappeared from the area. The perseverance of its people and diversification of its economic base helped the town survive. The same enterprise and dedication continues today as St. Stephen begins the 21st century.

Things To See and Do

CHOCOLATE MUSEUM is a must for all chocoholics! Devoted to the wonder of chocolate, the museum is an indoor, unique and interactive experience displaying the history of Ganong Bros. Ltd, candy makers in St. Stephen since 1873.

HISTORIC BUILDINGS View the many different architectural styles in our wonderfully historic town including Lonicera Hall (1841) and Todd Mansion (1890).

TIDES OF THE ST. CROIX, a Canadian Heritage River, are the highest in the world. They rise and fall twice daily.

OLD TRAIN STATION, built by the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1929 is the backdrop for many community activities and concerts in the Town Square.

LOYALIST BURIAL GROUND, 1784-1863, restored in 2008, is the resting place for 69 Loyalists, many who helped build the town.

NATURE PARKS Stroll the beautiful gardens at Dover Hill, make a splash on the pad at Chocolate Park or enjoy the view from the lookout at the site of Cotton Mill Workers' Monument.

RIVERFRONT WALKING TRAIL, take a leisurely walk along the scenic river and watch for eagles overhead or even catch a view of one 'fishing'.

GANONG NATURE PARK, a 350 acre natural park, features a spectacular coastline that overlooks the St. Croix River. The park has woods, fields, many trails and 180 acres of intertidal area.

ST. CROIX ISLAND, just down the river from St. Stephen is where Champlain and de Monts in 1604 tried to establish the first settlement north of Florida.

THE GARCELON CIVIC CENTER, a premier recreation and multi-purpose facility located in the downtown core. Join us for a skate on the Quartermain Arena, a stroll on the Sunlife Walking Track, a swim or workout in the Aquatic and Fitness Center, or host a meeting in our Culture, Community, and Conference Center.

THE COTTON MILL MONUMENT, (1882-1957) honouring those whose lives created a strong and vibrant community and a splendid chapter in local history.

THE CHARLOTTE COUNTY MUSEUM (c. 1980), exhibits reflect the immigration of early settlers –Loyalists, Scots, and Irish – and illustrates their ties with the American Northeast from the late 18th century onward.

The best whale watching - Kayaking and bicycling - Salt marshes
Lighthouses - Museums - Quiet fishing villages
Choices in dining - Seaside cottages - Quiet country inns
Camping by the sea - Local arts and crafts lots to see... lots to do!

Whale watching on Grand Manan Island. Worth the trip..... Worth the difference!

Ever seen a "baby" that is bigger than a school bus? Well, get ready to meet one when you go whale watching in the Bay of Fundy with Whales-

The question is often asked "Why go way out to Grand Manan Island to go whale watching? Can't we see them from the mainland?" True, but there is one difference that Whales-n-Sails' customers really appreciate - There's no crowd of boats jockeying for position to get a glimpse of 2 or 3 whales like you will find in the bigger centres. Not on Grand Manan Island! Typically, it's just your boat and 5, 10, 20 and some days even 30 or 40 whales around you!

As Captain Sarah likes to tell people "Those other places the boats line up to get a brief look at "the whale"; Out here, the whales line up to see us!" And when Captain Sarah says "to see us", she really means "to see you". Come on over..... The whales are waiting to meet you!

Whales-n-Sails Adventures - (888) 994-4044 - www.4whales.com for information and online booking.

n-Sails Adventures! Most baby whales are as big as a school bus when they are born and the Bay of Fundy around Grand Manan Island is where their moms bring them for the summer.

Captain Sarah and the crew of Whales-n-Sails Adventures have been sharing and showing the whales of the Bay of Fundy with folks since 1999. Sailing with the power of the Fundy's breezes, she will glide her large, comfortable sailing yacht quietly by the whales in their natural surroundings. And there are lots of whales to see around Grand Manan Island. There are just more whales around the Island than anywhere else and that makes for better whale watching! When your Captain has so many whales to choose from, great whale sightings are guaranteed (If whales you don't see, your next trip is free!).

But it's not just the number of whales that make the difference!

St. Andrews

Saint Andrews, NB or St. Andrews By-the-Sea as it is commonly called was founded in 1783 by the United Empire Loyalists. This little seaside Town is well preserved with many of the original buildings still gracing the Town Plat. Some of these buildings were barged to the area from Castine, Maine at the end of the Revolutionary War and are listed under the New Brunswick and Canadian Registry of Historic Places.

Throughout the decades Saint Andrews has welcomed visitors from all corners of the earth. Currently, the population is around 1800 year round and significantly increases in the summer.

Today, Saint Andrews represents one of the best preserved examples of colonial heritage in North America. While maintaining its charm, Saint Andrews is also a dynamic, prosperous community. St. Croix Island

The first Europeans to settle in the area were a company of French explorers led by Samuel de Champlain and Sieur de Monts in 1604. They attempted to set up a permanent community on St. Croix Island, four miles from the mouth of the St. Croix River. After just one winter, which was admittedly unusually severe, the attempt to settle was a dismal failure. Nearly half of the men died of scurvy and exposure. They dismantled their buildings and sailed to a more hospitable location across the Bay of Fundy, where they founded Port Royal, now known as Annapolis Royal. St. Croix Island is an International Historic Site and had interpretive and viewing parks on both sides of the St. Croix River.

Welcome to St. George

The Granite Town

Our Most Photographed Scenic Attraction

The Gorge is worth a couple of visits, as the high tide changes the landscape dramatically. The cliffs on either side are said to be riddled with caves, one of which is said to connect with Lake Utopia. The dam and mill were built by St. George Pulp and Paper, which ceased operations in 1967. Shortly after the dam was built, the salmon ladder was installed to benefit stocks of wild salmon that migrate up the Magaguadavic River to spawn.

The ladder has enabled a serious conservation effort to protect and enhance the wild salmon run.

Discover the blend of old and new as you explore our enchanting town. Stroll quiet and unpretentious streets to the spot where the first settlers climbed ashore from the Magaguadavic River in 1783. Catch a glimpse of the past in the granite post office and the Presbyterian Kirk, still in continuous use. In the early years all denominations attended this Kirk. In the forests around the town, sense the ghosts of the past in abandoned granite quarries. View our world famous gorge from above and below the falls. Marvel at the stubborn Atlantic Salmon maneuvering the fish ladder. Scan the sky above the river basin for eagles. Thrill for the sight of an osprey diving for its prey. Walk through our Covered Bridge at Canal and then enjoy a day of sun and sand at Lake Utopia. Keep one eye open for the Lake Utopia Monster. It still lurks here.

Gather information on everything to do in and around our area at the tourist facilities at the Granite Town Farms, 151 Brunswick St. Photo opportunities abound on the lookout of the Magaguadavic basin on the banks of the upper river in St. George, where the river meets the sea, where visitors meet unspoiled countryside, uncrowded beaches but always a friendly welcome!

This District was for years the center of the granite industry in New Brunswick. The area came into production in 1872 with the opening of a quarry on the shore of Lake Utopia and the erection of a finishing plant in St. George. "The Bay of Fundy Red Granite Company" was founded by Mr. Charles Ward, a New York artist and photographer, after he became very intrigued by the immense ledges of deep red granite while on a fishing trip to Lake Utopia.

This pioneer company had its successes and failures, but the business grew and the granite industry became the leading employer of the area. In 1890, there were six firms in St. George manufacturing the different coloured granites quarried near the town.

The typical St. George granite is bright red in colour, but many different shades occur in the district. Specific colours were obtained from various quarries offering customers a wide selection. This granite of high quality was employed mainly for monumental purposes and to a very limited degree, for building.

The granite quarried in St. George was acknowledged by retail dealers as being superior, prettier, and more durable than any imported. For this reason, samples of our work can be seen in nearly every Canadian cemetery.

The falling-off of the industry was not due to any fault of the manufacturers, but the removal of the tariff between Canada and the US. After 60 years as a flourishing industry, the St. George granite industry began to die slowly. After World War II there continued to be some demands for gravestones, however, a vigorous industry was unable to thrive on such occasional contracts. In 1953 the last firm was closed marking the end of the St. George granite business.

Though the industry is no longer operational, it has forever left its mark on the community. The St. George post office and granite monuments in area cemeteries continue to remind us of our roots as, "The Granite Town".

Sculpture: Water Stone

To day there is a large Salmon Aquaculture Industry in the area. St. George has become an important commercial and industrial service area in the Fundy region as a result of a dynamic and quickly growing aquaculture industry. The industrial park is conveniently located near aquaculture operations at Lime Kiln Bay and the Bay of Fundy.

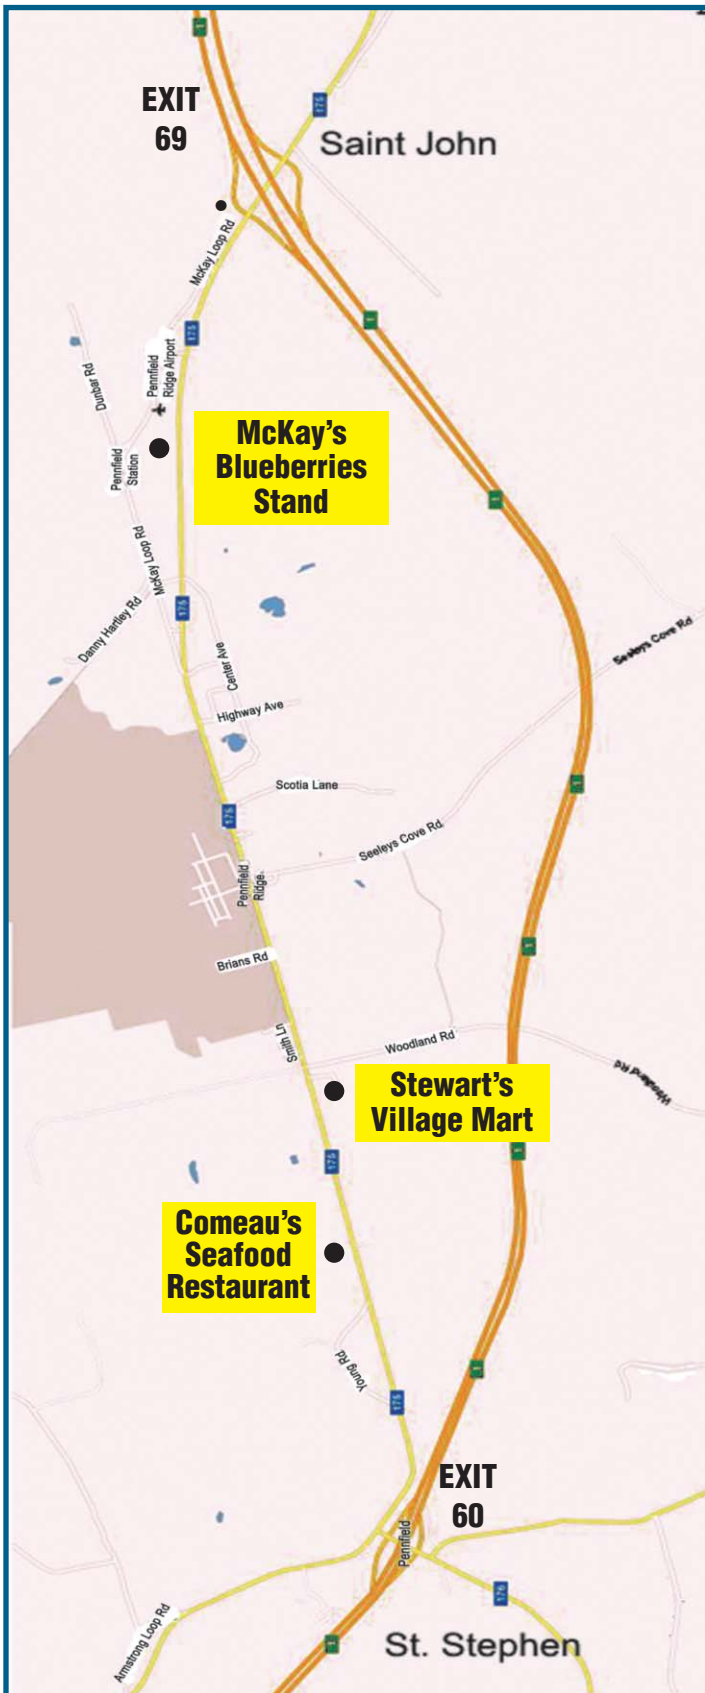

This Sculpture done in 2012, by Jim Boyd, located by the post office, is part of an International Sculpture Trail that starts in Maine through to Quispamsis, NB.

PENNFIELD

During the latter part of the summer be on the lookout for signs of Blueberries For Sale. Charlotte County is famous for its blueberries and roadside stands in the Pennfield area will attest to that. The annual Blueberry Festival is held in August. Recent medical reports indicate there is a definite positive link between blueberries and the fight against cancer. Pennfield boasts several fine restaurants and shops, many of which specialize in seafood and home baking.

The main highway through this quiet, rural community brings visitors right to the edge of the Bay of Fundy. Whether at high or low tide, it can only be described as "picturesque".

First opened in 1876, the Old City Market has withstood the test of time - from The Great Fire of 1877 which devoured the city around it only a year after it opened, to the twentieth-century urban renewal that built a brand new city right outside the iron gates.

A full city block in length, the Market runs downhill from the "head of the Market" on Charlotte Street, gently sloping to the Germain Street entrance, a full 20 feet below. At both entrances hang the same gates that have swung closed at the end of each business day since 1880. Crafted from heavy wrought-iron, their graceful design is a tribute to the skill and artistry of the local blacksmith who created them.

Saint John City Market has been designated by the Government of Canada as a place of national historic significance. This place is part of the Family of National Historic Sites, one of more than 800 places across Canada which help define the important aspects of Canada's diverse but common heritage and identity.

Bigtide

BREWING CO.
Saint John, New Brunswick

Big Tide Brewing Company, Saint John's only brew pub and restaurant, commenced brewing our hand-crafted all-natural ales and lagers at our 47 Princess Street location in August of 2009. Since then we have gained a reputation for offering high quality beer accompanied by food that reflects the flavours of our brews.

Our brewers, Wendy Papadopoulos, Chris Welch and Thomas Frauley, are intensely passionate about their personalized approach to the science of brewing. Their dedication is manifested in the taste and flavour consistency of their efforts.

Our team of talented chefs strives to offer a variety of appetizers and entrées that utilize our unique brews during their creation. Our delicious pub staples and specials are the perfect match for our beer.

Big Tide is proud of our regional heritage, history and culture and we celebrate it through the names of our brews: Fogbound Hemp Pale, Seaworthy IPA, Benedict Arnold Extra Special Bitter and Sandpiper Pilsner, to name a few. The latter is named for our unofficial mascot – the semi-palmated sandpiper. This tiny shorebird is common in the Bay of Fundy area in late July and early August as it stocks up on fuel for its long trip back to South America. The semi-palmated sandpiper is unique and distinct--just like us. Wise semi-palmated sandpipers know that the best place to fuel up is the Bay of Fundy, which is, coincidentally, where you'll find the Big Tide Brewing Company, source of some of the best fuel around.

Welcome to St Martins

Nestled on miles of quiet, unspoiled Bay of Fundy beaches, is the serene seaside community of St. Martins. The village is the gateway to the Fundy Trail, a park with walking and hiking paths along the last undeveloped stretch of coastline on the eastern seaboard.

Located on the shores of the famous Bay of Fundy, home to the World's Highest Tides, St. Martins is a beautiful, picturesque village with a rich history. Our scenic village has many interesting features, included are Victorian properties; miles of unspoiled, quiet, accessible beaches; two lighthouses; a garden-park; an active harbour boasting two covered bridges; world famous 'Sea Caves'; and is 'The Gateway to the Fundy Trail'.

Centrally Located between Hopewell Rocks and St. Andrews, the village of St. Martins provides a spectacular setting from which to explore the entire Fundy Coast.

The original name of the community was 'Goolwagagek' A Micmac Word meaning haunt of the hooded seal' according to DeMouilles map of 1686. Over many years it was translated as 'Araquaki'. Later translations of the name produced Roquaque and finally by 1762 it appeared on a map (presently in the Library of Massachusetts Historical Society) as Quaco. It has remained unchanged since that time.

The newly settled community was christened St. Martin's by one of the original grantees – Matthias Moran after his ancestral province in France. Matthias Moran was the founder of the prolific Moran Shipbuilding family. This family together with the Vaughan family accounted for greatest number of vessels built at St. Martin's yards. These two families mastered many of their own vessels, sailing around the world under their own "House Flag." An additional thirty-seven families are considered major builders of St. Martin's vessels. This little village was to become the third largest producer of wooden sailing vessels on the eastern seaboard of North America.

The first of the more than 500 vessels built at St. Martin's was launched in 1803 and named the RACHEL. The last vessel was launched in 1919 and named the SELINA K. GOLDMAN. When the days building sailing vessels ended, many men who comprised the talented workforce of the village found employment at the Saint John Shipbuilding Company where they used their expertise in shipbuilding to produce the great modern commercial and naval vessels used today. The last vessels on which St. Martin's men shipbuilders were involved were the Halifax Class Frigates built for the Canadian Navy in the 1990's.

The unique architecture of the village was, in many instances copied from European buildings, the intricate designs of which were brought back by sea captains and incorporated into their own homes here. Those who could afford it – and there were several, brought artisans from Europe to decorate the interiors of their homes by painting their ceilings and wall panels. Unfortunately, little of this art remains today. There were, as well local cabinet-makers who produced everything from sleigh beds to original doors, chairs, desks and other furniture for the shipbuilder's homes as well as their own.

In 1879 the first train ran on the new St. Martin's – Hampton Railway. This proved to be a money-losing venture as the track ran north-west to Hampton rather than to Saint John- the natural commercial centre nearest St. Martin's 1940 saw the end of railway service to the village.

A disastrous fire on May 31 1900 destroyed over 68 buildings in the village - many of them the finest examples of Victorian architecture to be found anywhere.

St. Martins was incorporated by an Act of the New Brunswick Legislature on November 9, 1967.

Over the past decade, St. Martins has become known as one of New Brunswick's most beautiful seaside vacation resort communities. The Village is a magnet for artists and photographers wishing to capture the unspoiled beauty of the area. A small community of artisans produce pottery, paintings and sculptures.

And, there area growing number of unique shops and galleries. Opportunities for hiking, walking, biking, birdwatching, rockhounding, and beachcombing are all within steps of excellent dining and a range of accommodation in campgrounds, cottages, B&Bs, and country inns.

HISTORY

The Town was named in honour of the Duke Of Sussex, son of King George III. The area was settled by a few families before the arrival of the United Empire Loyalists in 1784 from New Jersey. As the settlement of the Loyalists developed, the Parish Of Sussex was established in 1786. Growth continued in the Parish with the development of the agricultural and forestry industry and the opening of the European and American railway line in 1860, thus leading to the incorporation of the Town Of Sussex in 1904.

The Town Of Sussex has and continues to provide services for the needs of the agricultural and forestry sector throughout the years. In addition, from 1939 through the 60's, Sussex was the location of Camp Sussex. During the war years, Camp Sussex was home to 10,000 troops, thus providing a natural tie with the Canadian Armed Forces.

NB AGRICULTURAL MUSEUM

The NB Agricultural Museum is located in Princess Louise Park and displays the proud heritage of the area's agricultural past. The museum has indoor and outdoor exhibits, featuring antique farm equipment, a blacksmith's shop, a relocated train station and a caboose.

Our collection includes hundreds of artifacts from our province's rural way of life. From agricultural equipment, house wares, and military memorabilia, to an impressive railway display.
